The Bonnell Foundation (TBF) is awarding 16 education scholarships. These scholarships are given to students who have cystic fibrosis in Michigan, and across the Country. The scholarships are awarded to students planning to attend, or currently enrolled at university, trade school or community college. Founder Laura Bonnell, “When we give out these scholarships, we must remember what a gift it is to award these students who think about their life expectancy daily. They feel fortunate to get help from us, but it’s certainly our honor to give it to them”.

The $25,000 awarded to students was gifted to The Bonnell Foundation by a Michigan CF Mom. “I am grateful for my daughter’s good health and her ability to complete college, establish a career, marry and have a child. Giving back is how I can pay it forward.” She goes on to say why she picked The Bonnell Foundation, “My daughter has CF so I can relate to the financial burden often put on families. Wanting to do more I began researching a way to assist CF patients with the costs of college education, I discovered the Bonnell Foundation website. After reading their mission statement, I knew it was exactly the kind of philanthropic endeavor I wanted to support. Since meeting Founder, Laura Bonnell, I found her to be dedicated and qualified to lead this nonprofit. I am looking forward to contributing my time as well as funds to the Foundation. Volunteering is something that is near and dear to my heart.”
